RE: Ridership Report

Ridership for December 10,134 vs. 19,569 same reporting period last year. The agency was starting to see small ridership increases with the exception of November. November saw an eleven percent (-11%) decrease from the previous month as a result of the lower holiday travel and the surge of positive COVID-19 related cases.

RE: Administrative Report

STAFF RECOMMENDATION: RECEIVE AND DISCUSS AS NECESSARY

ITEM 5.6

Administrative Report

The following administrative report includes reporting information for the following month(s):
October through December.

Audits

Eide Bailly, the firm SBCTA retained to conduct the financial audits of the operators in San Bernardino County, has been concluded for the exception of the single audit (still in progress). Staff received and reviewed the draft report. Once the final report is completed staff will present the outcome to the board at a future meeting.

Community Out Reach

On November 19th, the MBTA held its annual Can-A-Ride food drive and received sixty (60) non-perishable food items that was donated to "The Way Station" here in Joshua Tree.

Bus Stops and Shelters

During the holidays staff completed two bus stop projects; in Twentynine Palms a replacement shelter was installed at Adobe Road and Gorgonio due to being destroyed by another vehicle. Then there was a heavily weathered bus shelter on Highway 62 at Park Blvd in Joshua Tree which too was replaced. These projects were identified through the agency's bus stop improvement plan as was paid for through the State of Good Repair program.

Miscellaneous

In January, MBTA met with staff from SBCTA to discuss being included in SBCTA's Multimodal Transit and Rideshare Interconnectivity meetings that are currently being held with operators within the San Bernardino Valley area. At the time the meeting began, MBTA wasn't included because the study in which the group was built upon did not incorporate the Morongo Basin. After some thought and taking a better look at the working group goals and objectives, it was decided to revisit the study's action items/strategies and re-envision the future of the group, its goals and supporting all transit operators, including the MBTA which will ensure collaboration with transit operators countywide.

Community Outreach

During the month of December, staff spent many hours working with our Coach Operators in training on the operation of this new bus. It was released for service the first week of the new year, and have received many positive comments from both the operators and its customers.

New bus hits the streets of Morongo Basin

A new bus added to the Morongo Basin Transit Authority Fleet should be easier to use, thanks to its lower floor and lack of steps.

The 35-foot bus runs on compressed natural gas.

"This is a first of its kind for our fixed-routes services," said General Manager Mark Goodale.

"Customers can enjoy the convenience and safety of not having to climb up and down stairs, which allows those with mobility challenges to easily enter and exit the bus."

It will also help make routes more efficient and reduce loading times, Goodale said.

The bus was bought in part through a federal grant that provides money to replace, rehabilitate and buy buses, vans and related equipment or facilities.

The bus cost $520,000 and was bought through a grant program.

"This program is a statewide discretionary funding program for the purpose of financing capital bus and bus-related projects that will support the continuation and expansion of public transportation," Goodale explained.

APTA HEALTH & SAFETY COMMITMENTS PROGRAM

The health and safety of transit passengers and employees is the most important priority for public transportation agencies. The coronavirus pandemic and its impact on our industry have underscored this principle and challenged us to develop innovative solutions. As the work continues to mitigate the spread of COVID-19, our industry will speak with a single voice about its commitment to transit users.

The APTA Health & Safety Commitments Program is designed to help public transit agencies put in place their own, individualized policies and practices that transit users have told us they want and expect. The Program defines four core categories of responsibilities – for every transit agency and for their passengers – making this a true partnership for health and safety.

By agreeing to participate in the Program, my agency pledges to address the following areas:

For Our Agency:	For Our Passengers
Follow policies and practices based on official guidance from public health experts and agencies.	Help riders of diverse ages, needs, and abilities to feel safe by following official guidance from public health experts and agencies, and transit agency rules.
Keep transit vehicles clean, disinfected, and maintained daily using EPA-approved disinfectants and accepted industry practices.	Ask riders to wear face coverings, use hand sanitizer or disinfecting wipes, and minimize touching common surfaces wherever possible.
Communicate timely information about changes in service, and high-density routes and vehicles.	Help riders practice physical distancing with other passengers and operators, and make informed choices based on timely information.
Require transit personnel to use face coverings and PPE, and to take leave at the sign of illness or possible exposure to the coronavirus.	Request that passengers assess their own health before using transit and to avoid transit if ill or possibly exposed to the coronavirus.

Additionally, we agree to stay current with changes to these commitments as guidance and science regarding the pandemic continue to evolve.

Transit Watch: Public Transit in Crisis

January 12, 2021

Friends,

Significant ridership and revenue declines resulting from the COVID-19 pandemic threaten the viability of transit service in the near- and long-term.

The most recent federal emergency relief bill provides stopgap funding to public transit agencies, which is being used to halt planned service reductions and workforce layoffs. While this bill will ensure that many public transit agencies can continue to provide their service in the near-term, the impact of the pandemic on transit operating budgets may last for years.

More help is urgently needed.

Check this page on our website frequently for the latest information on COVID-19 impacts to public transit in your community.

Stimulus Throws $975 Million Lifeline to Bay Area Public Transit. Will It Be Enough to Prevent Cuts?

- Bay Area transit agencies, hard hit by fare losses during the pandemic, are slated to receive $975 million in federal funds from the latest coronavirus relief bill.
- Public transportation across the country has faced an existential threat in the months since widespread lockdowns cleared most riders off transit, though have continued providing services to essential workers.

- VTA spokesman Ken Blackstone said the latest round of funds will provide a "short-term fix" that officials hope will be enough to "bridge the gap" until ridership and revenues return to pre-pandemic levels.
- SF Muni officials say they will still need to spend rainy-day funds to balance the agency's budget and will need additional funding to restore bus and rail service that was slashed earlier this year.
- Read more from San Jose Mercury News: "Stimulus Throws \$975 Million Lifeline to Bay Area Public Transit. Will It Be Enough to Prevent Cuts?"

For Public Transit, the Stimulus is a Lifeline - But a Short One

- The $900 billion stimulus package passed by Congress includes $14 billion of aid for public transit... enough to halt the sweeping service and staffing cuts that several of the nation's largest transit agencies had said could be imminent, but not enough to close the pandemic-sized holes blown through agency budgets.
- "This will buy agencies critical time and should stave off transit cuts for the immediate future," stated an analysis of the bill by TransitCenter, a think tank. "To fully bridge the COVID budget gap, however, further rounds of funding would need to be secured from federal, state or local sources."
- In San Francisco, for example, existing service cuts due to ridership losses and labor shortages will stay in place, says Jeffrey Tumlin, the executive director of the San Francisco Municipal Transportation Agency. The new aid from Congress would likely be enough to postpone 1,200 layoffs proposed in a budget plan the agency had previewed earlier this month. "It stabilizes us at our current 70% service level," he said.
- The reliability of urban bus and rail systems is essential to the broader economic recovery. U.S. public transportation agencies have continued to provide more than 70 million trips per week even as COVID-19 infection rates reach new heights.
- If ridership does not rebound and service cuts become permanent, advocates warn that workers who can't afford alternative transportation would be left stranded; others will take to cars, adding congestion to the roads and carbon emissions to the atmosphere.
- Read more from Bloomberg CityLab: "For Public Transit, the Stimulus is a Lifeline - But a Short One"

Golden Gate Transit Workers Spared from Layoffs for Now in Anticipation of Coronavirus Relief Funds

- The Golden Gate Bridge, Highway and Transportation District board voted to stop the planned layoffs of 146 workers after the newest coronavirus relief bill became law.
- Shelter-in-place nearly emptied the transit district's buses and ferries and cleared traffic on the Golden Gate Bridge. Revenue from tolls and fares dropped $2 million a week.
- The board voted to lay off 146 workers, eliminate 59 vacant jobs and implement a 10% pay cut for management to cut costs, instead of raising revenue by hiking tolls.
- General Manager Denis Mulligan said he hoped new federal stimulus funds will get the transit district through the spring, but uncertainty remains about when the pandemic will be over and riders will return. If bridge toll traffic doesn't rebound or no more federal relief comes, the board will have to cut costs or raise revenue again.
- Read more from Mass Transit Magazine: "Golden Gate Transit Workers Spared from Layoffs for Now in Anticipation of Coronavirus Relief Funds"

The Pandemic Has Upended Bay Area Transportation. What Does the Future Hold?

- The COVID-19 pandemic has transformed transportation. Some experts fear transit operators struggling for riders and revenue will never fully recover, with people reverting to driving in notoriously bad Bay Area traffic.
- Unlike drivers, many public transit riders still haven't returned, and might not for a long time. Data from Apple Mobility shows that since Jan. 13, driving in the Bay Area dropped 30%, while transit plunged 72%.
- Even though agencies such as the Santa Clara Valley Transportation Authority and AC Transit have received enough federal funds to fill their budget holes, their futures remain dire. It may be years before transit riders fully return. BART has predicted that ridership may not be back until July 2022.
- Transit operators say their existence is threatened.
- "No one anticipated that the pandemic was going to extend through nine months, and here we are," said Valley Transportation Authority General Manager Nuria Fernandez, who chairs the American Public Transportation Association. "We're keeping our fingers crossed that the vaccine works well, but we don't know what the future holds."

Staff requests authorization to proceed with the disposal of MBTA vehicle # 311. This vehicle was approximately (2%) two percent away from meeting its useful life when it was pulled out of service due to an irreparable cracked frame. 3.1 Land Acquisition

Mark Goodale updated the Ad Hoc Committee on receiving confirmation from the City Manager that the City Council has given him direction to proceed with starting the process for eminent domain to potentially acquire the properties then sell them to the MBTA. This meeting provided the committee an opportunity to discuss any base parameters to present to the Board when the time comes to purchase that land from the City.

Board Member Abel inquired if staff sought counsel's opinion regarding any legalities that could prohibit the type of exchange occurring between the agencies. Mark Goodale responded that he received an answer from counsel and that there would be nothing prohibiting it. Mark asked for confirmation from Board Member Wright and he concurred.

Mark said he really wasn't sure what type of discussion there would be with the City when it came to negotiating a price with the City for the exception of staffs already authorized limits. However, Mark assumed the City would want to recoup any additional costs associated with eminent domain. Board Member Wright stated that the City wouldn't be interested in making a profit and would sell to MBTA at their cost of acquisition.

It was recommended by Board Member Abel that staff bring to the board for comments and direction, potentially authorizing staff to advise the City of Twentynine Palms to proceed with the eminent domain process with staff under the current authorized limits. Board Member Wright concurred.

Re: Supervisor Vehicle Replacement

MBTA's Field Supervisor supports the service using a 2010 Dodge Intervan through Braun, this vehicle has exceeded its useful life. Due to its age, wear and tear, and increased costs to operate, replacing it with a newer Hybrid Electric vehicle will not only reduce its operating cost but will help reduce greenhouse gas emissions.

Staff requests authorization to purchase one (1) 2021 Toyota RAV4 Hybrid from the State of California Contract #1-18-23-23C line 7 in the amount of the $30,173.00 (quote attached).
